DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-16 and 24-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rudolph et al '821 or Strutz et al '535 in view of Southcott or Rouly et al.

Rudolph et al '821 has a transport 22, a decorator conveyor 14 and grippers 34, 36. Strutz et al '535 has a transport 90, a decorator conveyor 12 and grippers 216. It would have been obvious to modify the gripper conveyor to rotate about an acute axis relative to the vertical position of the articles on the transport conveyor and the horizontal position of the articles on the decorator conveyor as taught by the acute axis for the rotary gripper conveyor 4 of Southcott or 31, 32 of Rouly et al.

With regard to claims 2, etc. concerning pivots mounting the grippers, cam 60, followers 92 and control rods 38 rotate grippers about pivot axis 40 of Rudolph et al '821. Similarly, cam 226, followers 224 and control rods 220 rotate grippers 216 of Strutz et al '535 about the pivot axis along rods 220. The grippers in both Rudolph et al '821 or Strutz et al '535 reciprocate open to receive or discharge an article and reciprocate closed to grip.

3. Claims 29-36 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-31 of U.S. Patent No. 6,581,750. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claim only differs in obvious variations of breadth and scope.

Note that claims 29-36 of this application contain at least the combination of the acute angled transfer 150 or 155 and the decorator conveyor 12. This is the same elected and allowed combination in U.S. Patent No. 6,581,750.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
